Graduates Win Honors

Shaw, Smith Tops at N.C.

A return to state sovereignty was urged by Charles Sullivan, Clarksdale attorney and former gubernatorial candidate, in an address to the graduating class of Hancock North Central School last Thursday night.

He called on the young people on their way to taking up their duties as full-fledged citizens to work vigorously to preserve States' rights, blasting the federal government and many of its present programs such as social security.

Sullivan prefaced his address with the remark that he had just returned from "Hershey, D. C., where the population is 75 per cent chocolate and 25 per cent nut."

County Superintendent of Education K. G. McCarty introduced the speaker.

Judith Lea Shaw and Jay Charles Smith tied for top scholastic honors, both graduating with straight A's for four years. The Fulton Studio award of a $25 U. S. Savings Bond went to Miss Shaw. Coast Electric Power Assn., hearing of the tie, offered the same amount bond so both could be rewarded and this went to Smith.

Susan Lorraine Favre won the medal for the second highest average. These three and Gaydell Ory were graduated with highest honors.

Other honor students in the class of 1961 were George Hinton, Joe Harrel, Eva Lee Spiers, Freeman Lee, Wanda Nell Lee, Rip Kennedy, Virnita Ledner, Berlin Necaise and Bonnie Sue Peterson.

Rouse expressed appreciation to the class for its gift to the school of dark shades for the cafeteria which will permit the showing of films there and to Hancock Bank for the miniature diplomas for each graduate which were included with the regular diplomas.

Kiln Road Job Underway

Work is proceeding normally on the Kiln Road job, a ten-mile stretch from Kiln to Bay St. Louis, with current activity concentrating mainly on clearing right-of-way and driving test piling. The job was awarded to Bayou Talia Jordan River, according to J. Hubbard, Beat 5 supervisor.

Application has been made to the Army Corps of Engineers by Monroe J. Wolfe, contractor of Harvey, La., to dredge approximately 100 cubic yards of muck adjacent to the approaches to the Kiln bridge.

Wolfe was awarded the contract for 404 miles of bridges approaches on a bid of $145,000.

Protests against the dredging project have been made by the Bay St. Louis Citizens' Committee.

Military Ball Set To Open County's Civil War Events

To launch the county celebration of the Civil War Centennial, a gala military ball is in the planning stages and will be the latter part of July or the first part of August.

Tentative plans were made by the centennial committee Tuesday night at City Hall. J. Cyril Glover and Miss Veronica Mohr, chairman of special events, will make arrangements for the event, a costume affair.

General chairman John A. Scalfide reports that uniforms for Co. C., Hancock County Rebels of the Mississippi Greys, will be ordered at the end of this week. So far, about 30 men have joined the unit.

Roundup from the Sheriff

Twelve men wearing swastika arm bands and described as American Nazis were escorted through Hancock County Tuesday night by Sheriff Gerald Price and Chief of Detectives Lander Necaise.

The men were in a German-made bus and station wagon bearing signs reading "Lincoln Rockwell's Hate Bus. We hate Jewish Communists. We do hate communism."

Deputy Gerald Price, Jr., said the sheriff had received a call from authorities in Jackson saying the party was expected to arrive here in the evening. About 8:30 p.m. a Beach restaurant called to say that a Volkswagen bus and station wagon in

U.S. Nazis Here Tuesday

Reported leader of the American Nazi party, George Lincoln Rockwell, said the trip from Arlington, Va., to New Orleans was to protest racial integration and communism. Reports from New Orleans said the Nazis had found lodging early Wednesday after a four-hour search. Rockwell stated the trip was financed by New Orleans people but refused to identify them. He added that racial strife is Communist inspired. They were jailed last night.

Deputy Price also reported that Beat 5 Justice of the Peace Nellus Rhodes had set a hearing at 10 a.m. June 3 for Frank Bartlett, Jr., of near Bay St. Louis (Cont. on Page 7.)

Shrimp Season Closed

Fishing Restricted in Bay Area

Further notice and an ordinance was adopted prohibiting fishing with nets in the Bay St. Louis area at Monday's meeting of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, attorney Dan M. Russell, Jr., said.

The new law, known as Ordinance Eight, is the result of a survey made by a committee composed of Alden Maufrey, Lloyd Ladner and J. C. Gay. They were named to draw up the ordinance after a delegation of sports fishermen asked that commercial net fishermen be curbed.

The ordinance prohibits net fishing west of St. Charles Street in Bay St. Louis to Bayou Caddy, one-half mile from and east of the seawall and within one mile of the shoal of Telegraph Keys, Telegraph Reef, also known as Merril Coquille, from April 1 to Nov. 1.

A fine of not less than $50 or more than $100 is to be levied for the first offense and not less than $100 nor more than $500 or imprisonment in jail not exceeding 30 days for any subsequent offense.

Biologist William Demoran said the shrimp season was closed in all waters under the jurisdiction of the commission in Mississippi because small brown shrimp are showing up in nursery areas and that inside waters should be closed to prevent unnecessary destruction of small shrimp. The action was taken under the provisions of Ordinance Six of House Bill 52 which states the season should remain closed until the shrimp attain a marketable size. This should be about the middle of June, Demoran said.

He noted that the ruling does not apply to live bait shrimpers with 16-foot or less trawls.

Chief Inspector George Williams warned that when the season was reopened the laws regulating use of double rigs and trawls of more than 50 feet will be enforced and measurements will be made periodically by patrol boats.

He also said the commission will start planting oyster shells Thursday.

W. A. McDonald Remodeling Job Ready to Open

W. A. McDonald and Sons, pioneer mercantile establishment in Hancock County, Friday will open its newly remodeled first floor sales area in the Toulme Street building it has occupied for 36 years.

It is the fourth enlargement of the area since the end of World War II and converts the entire south side of the building into sales space for furniture, appliances and kitchen items. The last expansion was three years ago.

The front of the building has been remodeled also with a brick exterior and modernistic awning. Fred Wagner was architect and Dennis Osborn supervised the work. (Cont. on Page 6.)

NEARS COMPLETION - Merchants Bank and Trust Co.'s new drive-in branch on Coleman Avenue, Waveland, is expected to be ready for opening early in June with preparation for surfacing the parking area in from now underway.

Lettersto the Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:
 May 1—Congratulations your paper for the coverage you gave the anti-bull league. Also our play ground officials for putting the children in shape for the start.

Let's hope the coming season will be big and better and that the fans will show their appreciation by supporting the various clubs, and come out and root for their favorite team.

However we must not forget that some of the people are not satisfied with the way they do their job. They are not satisfied with the way they do their job. They are not satisfied with the way they do their job.

The city officials should be that the use of the public address system is confined to the grandstand and not permit its use to disturb the peace of the entire neighborhood.

Two Sure Things

In 1789 Benjamin Franklin wrote to M. Leroy, "Our Constitution is in actual operation; every thing appears to promise that it will last; but in this world nothing is certain but death and taxes."

Since Ben Franklin's time taxation has become a burden beyond anything he ever experienced or could have dreamed. The ingenuity of our kind has expressed itself in no other field to the extent it has in inventing new ways to extract money from the people.

Every kind of taxation known to history is now in force in some form in the United States. If "the power to tax is the power to destroy," it is being used to the danger point. And this in a nation that fought a revolution in 1776 to win its independence on account of a tax on tea.

When ancient Rome reached its golden age, its income tax also went about as high as it could go. Tax officials, not satisfied with the returns of its citizens, their statements, books and outlays, used force to pry into their personal and private affairs, even resorting to physical and mental torture to extract every Roman cent.

The income tax in Rome was a success for a time, providing all the revenue needed, but as the historian Gibbons writes: "... it was also destructive of the state; for the testimony of history is that people finally welcomed the inroad of the barbarian as a lesser evil than the continuance of their tax system." So Rome fell.

When does the burden of taxation reach the breaking point? The consensus of many sound economists finds that whenever a people is taxed in excess of 25 per cent of its income, the nation begins to destroy itself—and our tax gatherers are already taking over 30 per cent.

Old Ben Franklin says taxes and death are two sure things. And you can be sure that there is such a thing as a people taxing itself to death to commit economic and social suicide.
